Take the turbulence out of your listing process.

The world of general aviation is unique. That's why our long-standing relationships and robust network of customers, friends, and fellow owner pilots, combined with a successful marketing strategy make us so effective at finding buyers for new listings.

Buyers and sellers depend on the reach and expertise that come from our 40+ years of selling, managing, maintaining, and acquiring a wide variety of aircraft.

OCR Aviation goes well beyond listing your aircraft on all the major aircraft marketplaces. Our multi-platform marketing approach includes professional photography, engaging social media, diligent lead generation and timely follow-up for each of our aircraft listings.
